
STATE OF ILLINOIS
PRISONER REVIEW BOARD

42rd Annual Report

January 1 to December 31, 2018

Governor: Bruce Rauner
Chairman: Craig Findley

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

STATE OF ILLINOIS
BRUCE RAUNER, GOVERNOR
Craig Findley, Chairman

The Honorable Bruce Rauner
Office of the Governor
207 Statehouse
Springfield, IL 62706

Dear Governor Rauner:

The Illinois Prisoner Review Board is pleased to submit its forty-second annual report, summarizing the Board's operations throughout calendar year 2018.

As a law enforcement agency of the State of Illinois, the Board serves four primary missions: (1) bipartisan, independent review, adjudication, and enforcement of behavioral rules for offenders; (2) parole consideration reviews and decisions for all adult offenders with "indeterminate" sentences; (3) hearings and confidential reports and recommendations to the Governor regarding all requests for executive clemency; (4) protection and consideration of the rights and concerns of victims when making decisions or recommendations regarding parole, executive clemency, conditions of release, or revocation of parole or release.

In 2018, the Board continued to implement the terms of the M.H. v. Monreal Consent Decree and the Morales v. Findley Settlement Agreement, with the goal of successfully concluding the implementation and external review of those processes in 2019. Alongside its efforts to modernize and improve the revocation hearing process, the Board is heartened by the passage of the Youthful Offender Parole by the General Assembly, which, if signed into law, will result in the reopening of a long-closed path towards mid-sentence review and potential early release after rehabilitation.

The Board continues to make strides towards the full digitalization of its processes and can report that the majority of the historical Board files have now been moved to digital storage. The Board also has continued to work with our partners in the Department of Corrections to build out a digitalized case management system, the implementation of which would bring many of the Board's processes into a form more conducive to data analysis and review.

As always, the Board remains steadfast in its dedication to the law enforcement goals of the State, and we will continue to seek to further refine and improve the release supervision system in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Craig Findley
Chairman

INTRODUCTION

Prior to February 1, 1978, the Illinois Prisoner Review Board (“the Board”) was a division of the Illinois Department of Corrections (“IDOC”) known as the Parole and Pardon Board. Today the Board is a quasi-judicial entity that makes decisions concerning adult and juvenile prison inmate matters. By statute it is currently composed of 15 Members who are appointed by the Governor, with the approval of the State Senate.

While the number of classic parole cases has decreased in recent years, today the greater part of the Board’s time is employed in holding parole revocation hearings, consisting of technical and new sentence revocations. The dockets are approximately 7,200 cases a year. These hearings are held at the various penal institutions around the state. The hearings can be complex fact-finding affairs involving attorneys on both sides of the questions, witness testimony, cross-examinations, and volumes of documentary evidence.

This kind of hearing and reviewing activity at both juvenile and adult institutions is at the heart of the Board’s duties. Board Members and staff travel to each institution of the Illinois Department of Corrections and to the Cook County Jail at least once each month. On any given month, the Board will visit all institutions, sometimes twice a month, to conduct its hearings.

Executive Clemency

Perhaps the most visible work the Board does involves executive clemency proceedings, which occur four times a year. Twice in Chicago and twice in Springfield the Board convenes to hear petitions from individuals seeking Clemency in the form of a Pardon, an Expungement, a Commutation or some other form of relief from the Governor. Confidential Recommendations are made to the Governor after these hearings are held and they are sent to his office for a final determination. Most petitioners request public hearings, but the Board also reviews petitions without a public hearing if the petitioner so chooses.

Victim Notification

One of the Board’s other historically significant mandates has been to provide victim notification services. The Board has an award-winning, specialized Victim Notification Unit (“VNU”) that documents the names and addresses of persons who request to be included in its registry. The VNU is devoted to alerting victims and their families of the impending release of an inmate from IDOC.

By allowing the victims to be involved in the process, it is the Board’s intention to assist them in experiencing less frustration with the criminal justice system. Victims and their loved ones call, write or very often meet with Board members to register their opposition to parole or to request special conditions of parole. This is all coordinated by a small, dedicated staff that compose the VNU and the Operations Unit. Board members and staff work closely with victim advocates and state’s attorneys throughout Illinois to coordinate efforts to protect the rights of crime victims.

The VNU has always facilitated victims' desires to inform the Board of their opinions about the individuals who victimized them.

By allowing the victims to be involved in the process, it is the Board's intention to assist them in experiencing less frustration with the criminal justice system. Victims and their loved ones call, write or meet with Board members to register their opposition to parole or to request special conditions of parole. Board Members and staff work closely with victim advocates and state's attorneys throughout Illinois to coordinate efforts to protect the rights of crime victims.

The Board also convenes at least twice a month to deliberate and prepare orders which enumerate the conditions that an inmate shall abide by while on parole/mandatory supervised release. In an average month, the Board will issue approximately 1,600 orders for inmates who are due to be placed on mandatory supervised release pursuant to law.

C-Number Hearings

Before 1978, one of the Board's primary mandates was to hold parole eligibility hearings for prison inmates whose sentences were of indeterminate durations. After that date, when determinate (flat) sentences were legislated in Illinois, the number of classic parole hearings for what have become known as C-number inmates, was fixed at a group of approximately 16,500 inmates, a number that has been whittled down to approximately 111 in the course of the years. These hearings continue to be held across the State and constitute the Board's most contested and deliberated hearings. The Board monthly at its Springfield headquarters to thoroughly discuss and vote on these special cases.

Other Hearings

The Board also reviews IDOC's recommendations for revocation of inmate good conduct credits when there has been an alleged violation of institutional rules. The Board provides a hearing to permit an inmate to make a defense against the allegation, before deciding whether to revoke these credits. The Board is further authorized to review IDOC recommendations for restoration of lost credits in cases in which an inmate's good behavior appears to merit such a reward. More than 2,000 such hearings are conducted each year.

Juvenile Hearings

Finally, the Board carries out specialized juvenile parole hearings at eight juvenile institutions each month under provisions of the Juvenile Court Act. These hearings mirror the adult hearings described above, but are conducted pursuant to different laws than those observed in the adult hearings.

Recidivism

With the State confronting a recidivism rate of approximately 41.6%, the reintegration of individuals back into society from incarceration is challenging. Presently, there is an emerging belief that the larger price is being borne by society, since the practical barriers facing people with criminal records make it more likely that they will slip back into a life of crime if not effectively addressed.

One of the overwhelming requests to the Board on clemency issues is that persons with convictions cannot get jobs. Many employers refuse to give jobs to convicted persons because they don't trust convicted persons, are afraid of lawsuits on negligent hiring, insurance companies, and, in some cases, are prohibited by law from hiring convicted persons. However, the lack of jobs is compounding the problem. Persons who have been convicted, after they have finished their time, are returning back to community only to find they can no longer find employment. This inability to earn a living too often results in a reliance upon Public Aid or a return to a life of crime in order to survive.

In order to break the cycle of recidivism, we must aid convicted persons in becoming law-abiding citizens. By introducing rehabilitation programs which specifically aid those who have served their debt to society, this goal can be attained.

The Board continues to hear clemency requests and makes confidential Recommendations to the Governor. The Governor has made final decisions on approximately 519 clemency cases this year.
